At the foot of the Piz Buin. Vorarlberg's highest mountain

The Wiesbadener Chalet (2,443 m) is located at the end of the Ochsental in the Silvretta range and serves as a starting point for numerous tours. Apart from the Grosser Litzner, the Piz Linard and the Fluchthörner, the best-known destination with its nearby glaciers is probably Piz Buin, at 3,312 m Vorarlberg's highest mountain.

In addition to the summer months, the chalet is also open for a few weeks in winter.

Emil: A man of the mountains

Since the summer of 2019, the Upper Pinzgau resident Emil Widmann has been running the Wiesbadener Chalet in the Ochstental. After nine years of being the leaseholder of the Kürsinger Chalet at the foot of the Grossvenediger, he was looking forward to a new challenge in Vorarlberg.

He got into the innkeeping profession through his years as a mountain guide. "Back then, I used to spend a lot of time at the Kürsinger Chalet
